

What They've Been Saying About
SAINT-HILAIRE
France's Oldest Sparkling Wine

“It remains one of the world’s finest sparkling wines, and it constitutes the highest quality value ration of any sparkling wine in the world.”

International Wine of the Month Club

“It is probably the least-known well-made sparkling wine of France...”

“Made primarily from the Chardonnay, Chenin Blanc and Mauzac grapes, the wines are qualitatively close to a high quality non-vintage Champagne at one-third the price.”

Robert Parker

“I’ve tried more than 20 wines and the great discovery was the Saint-Hilaire Blanquette de Limoux Brut.”

The Grapevine – New York Post

“It’s a pleasant and well balanced bubbly, perhaps the best value sparkling wine I’ve ever seen at the $10 level.”

Wine Lovers Page

“This is a frisky sparkler with an attractive, yeasty aroma and luscious, creamy texture. It’s also a remarkable value.”

On The Philadelphia Inquirer

“A pretty and remarkably drinkable sparkler with soft green apple, tangerine oil and faint yellow floral notes accented with hints of lavender.”
